This June, academics, writers, publishers, and lovers of language will converge as colleagues to explore the balance between the traditional and the contemporary in teaching, bringing the skills and joys of language to others. The Young Rhetoricians' Conference ("young" being the state of mind open to new possibilities) looks to issues and ideas the enable use to foster our students' skills and passions relative to all aspects of discourse—cognitive, pragmatic, and artistic. Bring your concerns—ideological and/or intuitive—to the beach as we gather to rejuvenate ourselves and ponder what we are about...where Monterey Bay warmly greet general sessions, workshops, panels, and luncheons. Please join us!

Earn College Credit (Post-Baccalaureate). Invest in your future! Earn up to five (5) quarter units of California State University Post-Baccalaureate English credit while you enjoy the YRC. Though these in-service units cannot be applied toward the master's degree, they are graduate level units and therefore applicable to ongoing faculty growth and development. California State University, Bakersfield offers these units at $60 per unit. For Extended University application forms and details pertaining to the courses offered, visit the 2016 YRC Registration Table during the conference.
